Communication No. 292/293

The Pleasant Places of Florida

From the Papers on the Sundial:

We thought we would come into the 21st Century—literally.

How have we managed to resist parodying the internet for this long? Well, mostly because we did not think of it until now. But who is parodying who? Is Holmes satirizing the World Wide Web? Or is the information superhighway making fun of the canon? Or are we just random thoughts in cyberspace? And what is cyberspace anyway? Is it really space? Can we store our old Emerson, Lake & Palmer records there? Will there be food? And if so, how will we eat it? Are there forks in cyberspace?

Anyway, Tweet, Rattle and Roll. Peace. Out.

StokeMan: Who's up for a great game of poker-bending? I'll be outside of the Capital and Counties Bank, Oxford Street, until 3:00 if anyone's interested. Come on. It'll be fun.

What would you do if you found yourself alone on the continent with no job, no money and completely drenched? What would you do if you could go anywhere you wanted? What would you do if you had to leave your most trusted associate thinking that you were dead?

Well, this is what I did.

Sigerson's Traveling Tips

I'm often asked how I prepare for a new trip. In the many years that I've spent traveling, I have developed almost a supernatural sense about what to bring. I realize that not everyone has the time to devote to such study, but herein I offer a few ideas of how to get the most out of getting there.

- ◆ Bring only what you need: a toothbrush, a change of clothes, and an Eley's No. 2
- ◆ Bring cash, but only the minimum. There are always jobs to be done, no matter where you go. You can always pick up extra funds solving the odd case.
- ◆ Don't attract attention to yourself. Watch the locals before doing anything. It Read More...

John H. Watson, MD, operates one of the finest family practices in the Paddington district. We specialize in...you. Plain and simple, you are the most important person in our universe. Dr. Watson and his staff pledge the very finest in medical care that can be provided. Rest assured that even if Dr. Watson is out hunting down nefarious criminals, his devoted staff will attend to you. And if he has been out all night helping old college chums deal with missing papers or angry wives, his devoted staff will attend to you. And if he has cause to hurry to the Continent for some unfathomable reason, his devoted staff will attend to you. We can make these statements because Dr. Watson is always too busy cleaning his Eley's No. 2 to read his own website.

So even if the doctor is not in, we can assure you that we are, and that you will receive the finest medical care in London.

If you doubt our word, make an appointment. Dr. Watson won't mind. And chances are, you'll never see him.

To read about his illustrious friend S. Holmes, please click here.

Dr. Watson took his degree at the University of London. He served in the Afghan War with the celebrated Fifth Northumberland Fusiliers. He took part in the Battle of Maiwand but doesn't particularly like to talk about it. Unless you ask him three times: then he'll tell you everything. But he keeps changing his story about where the bullet hit him.

Returning to England after the war, he married the former Mary Morstan. Sometimes he's home, sometimes he's not.

Dr. Watson considers it an honor to serve his patients as he did his fellow soldiers. Whenever he's here. He welcomes one and all.

That damned Holmes

April 25, 1899 Posted in Daily Post

I am fed up with that meddling consulting detective. I go over to his flat to ask him a few questions and the next thing I know he thinks he has solved the case and is halfway out the door before I can close my notebook. He is irretrievably wrong about this. I have scores of years of experience. Well, decades. Well, years anyway. I refuse to use Read more...

I was right!

April 27, 1899 Posted in Daily Post

I knew it. The great and wondrous Mr. Holmes was indeed incorrect about everything. He followed his hunches and they lead him to a complete dead end. Meanwhile, I've followed my own clues and believe that I have not erred in the least. For once the unctious detective does not have the upper hand. I expect to bring the perpetrators Read more...

Many apologies

May 5, 1899 Posted in Daily Post

Indeed I have brought the guilty parties to justice. Unfortunately—or fortunately as the case may be—Mr. Holmes was two steps ahead of me, having tied up the ruffians in their own basement. He left me a note: "Thank you for the most enjoyable case in months. You may claim the glory as the chase was more than enough. Yours, S Read more...

Welcome to Lodge 341, Vermissa Valley Chapter. Voted the “Friendliest Lodge” in the Gilmerton Mountains three years in a row.

We hope you enjoy our recently redesigned website. Check out our weekly rituals in Happenings. Want the latest scoop right from our own Jack “The Crack”? Then check out Musings of the Bodymaster. And if you really want to see what a bunch of crazy guys we are, then fill out a Membership application—it’s in PDF so you’ll need the latest Adobe Acrobat (click here for a free download). We’re always looking for new members.

Welcome New Members

Lodge 341 is delighted to welcome four new members to our humble community. Steve Jackson hails from upstate New York and is thrilled to be part of the “Beloved Threef.” His favorite foods are beets (What? Is he kidding?), mashed potatoes and ham (That’s more like it). Carl Carlson spent several years in Vermont before deciding to come to warmer climes. You can always tell Carl from a distance: he’s the one wearing the plaid shirt. Birdie Edwards is one shy dude, but we’ll soften
