We welcome a new non-resident member, Auxiliant Vogel who passed with honors her initiation by her sponsor Miss Hall.

It was most pleasing to find that upon making its rounds Communic. 2 was accompanied by a magnificent group of material for the present submittal to our members, including several sketches. Irregular Reesor generously presented the famous paperback "A Study in Terror," which confirms that Mr Holmes solved the mystery of "Who was Jack the Ripper?" As only the Auxiliants have not seen this, we have placed with the Society's Librarian, Auxiliant Hall, who will be pleased to loan it on request.

We are uncertain from whom have come most of the present submittals, but several of them bear the donors' signatures. The First Orange Pip speaks for all, we know, in expressing gratification for all this joint concern and interest to further our esteem and pleasure in the Saga.

The aforesaid valuable material is accounted for as follows:

1. A unique Hammermill Bond advertisement, with comment by Auxil. Butts
2. A very solid pastiche, "The Adventure of the Missing Bit."
3. Suggestions for official Insignia. Please vote your preference by initialing the sketch you like best.
4. "Sherlock Holmes As A Social Scientist." An important article in the magazine "Psychology Today."
5. "The Last of Sherlock Holmes" A One Act Comedy.
6. "Dr Roylott's Swamp Adder." Some facts on a moot question.
7. "Adventure of the Conk-Singleton Papers," by the distinguished biographer of the Publisher's Agent.
8. A spate of remarkable cartoons.
9. "Behind the Abbey Door." Included by request.
10. A test of your powers of observation.
11. "Sherlock Holmes Lives Again." - Reader's Digest. (Not on reincarnation)
12. "Baker Street" - A SHERLOCKIAN MUSICAL

As this time, there is nothing to be damaged by folding, we enclose a number of manila envelopes for your convenience. Otherwise please proceed as previously. We expectantly await anything you deem of interest for the next Communication.

Irregularly yours,

Resist Marshall
The First Orange Pip.
